

Public Hearing...

Vote Urged In Next 30 Days

About 120 Cameron residents Tuesday night at Methodist Fellowship Hall attended public hearing on proposals for urban renewal in Cameron.

A call for a referendum election about 30 days following the Tuesday Town Meeting, fourth in a year, was recommended by A. W. McCullin, moderator of the meeting and Planning Commission chairman, councilman Robert W. Wells and Commission member E. A. Perrin.

During the question and answer session, C. K. Cason, of the Houston firm of Bernard Johnson Engineers, Inc., made these salient points:

With F.M.L.

GOOD PUBLIC RELATIONS - Scout troops headed by Felix Matula Jr., and J. J. Heitman did a good turn for travelers and Cameron the past holiday week-end.

They gave away, literally, more than 500 Cokes to diversify whose surprise at the signs offering the free stop along the busy US 77-SH 36 often was apparent.

It was a novel twist. The setting of the old Cameron Park Pavilion is indeed a good one for a tourist visit.

107-107-107

We wonder what some of England's and other Western European's critics will say if Ho Chi Minh should soon decide the bombing of 56 per cent of his oil reserves changed things in South Vietnam.

President Johnson tugged a bit at the English Lion's tail when he noted that when Europe needed American help and required American loss of life, in WW II it was welcome. But when American lives are destroyed by an enforced limitation at the supply source in North Vietnam, they should be squeamish.

The French fought indifferently in the same part of the world for years following World War II, and lost faith in the problem at home. The same indifference was settling in this country until the bombing of Haiphong and Han-oi oil depots began and the results seen.

It is now almost certain that Red China will not enter the war. Their internal leadership struggles prevent that. And both American military and political leadership is confident of a change in the Vietnam struggle, though it is far from over.

107-107-107

"My husband and I have been married a whole year, and we have never quarreled. If a difference of opinion arises, and I am right, my husband agrees."

"But what if he is right?" suggests a friend.

"Oh, that will never happen."

Rudolph Kaatz Dies In Texas City, Rites Held Here Wed.

Rudolph Fred Kaatz, 84, died July 5 at Texas City. He had been living at League City and was a former resident of the Buckholts community. He was born in Poland and was a retired farmer.

Funeral services were held at 2 p.m. Wednesday, July 6, in the Marek-Burns Funeral Home Chapel with Rev. Glenn Moehring officiating. Burial was in the Hope Lutheran Memorial Park.

Survivors include four sons, Herman Kaatz of Austin, Alfred Kaatz of Waco, Rudy Kaatz of League City and James Kaatz of Freeport; three daughters, Mrs. Ruth Weedon of Del Valle, Mrs. Helen Schreiber of Del Valle and Mrs. Frieda Synatzske of Dickinson.

ONE - A vote for the urban renewal program is only a go ahead for planning a program of proposals, each of which is approved by a minimum five-member Local Urban Renewal board, and which is subject to the approval of the City Council, which also names the Urban Renewal board.

TWO - Credit of public works in the three years prior to making a planning contract can be applied to the City of Cameron's part of every $1 for $3 federal matching program provided works credited are within specified distance of or within the urban renewal area.

THREE - Appraisals are conducted of any areas proposed for urban renewal by two qualified appraisers, who can be either qualified local or non-local appraisers.

FOUR - Some 1,000 cities and towns in the United States are in urban renewal programs, either commercial or residential or a combination, and about 300 of them have additional programs planned or at work.

FIVE - Cities of similar size entering urban renewal programs includes Brenham, county seat of Washington County. Three men from Bartlett city government audited the Cameron public hearing Tuesday.

SIX - A professional executive director would be employed to direct any urban renewal program, described by Cason as "complicated, requiring the abilities of a lawyer, engineer, public relations man, and administrator."

SEVEN - Only city real estate property owners, current taxes paid, can vote in any urban renewal election.

Several dozen questions were asked from the floor by various individuals. Substance of questions developed the seven previous main points.

Cason outlined briefly the history of urban renewal, which, he said, first began back in the 1890's and became a federal program starting in 1949 and undergoing modification and improvement in laws during the past 15 years.

He emphasized that all urban renewal planning must follow the public law, now adapted for cities of under 50,000.

He said the appointed Urban Renewal board handles all details of and payment of bills in the program, under the supervision of the professional director.

The City Council has the authority to approve or disapprove the board's projects, but, he said, the Council and board in a city usually work together well on such projects.

EDGAR LEE EDWARDS

Edwards Succeeds Burke As Manager Of Cameron District

Edgar Lee Edwards has been named manager of Lone Star Gas Company's Cameron district of distribution, according to M.M. Young South Texas regional manager.

He replaces C. M. Burke who has been named district manager at Killeen. The changes are effective August 1.

Burke has been manager of the Cameron office since July 1, 1964 and has taken an active lead in local civic activities. He has served as president of the Chamber of Commerce and the Rotary Club and was elected to the Cameron School Board.

In his new position, Edwards will manage gas distribution to the towns of Cameron, Caldwell, Rockdale, Buckholts, Rogers, and Rosebud.

A native of Kaufman County, Texas, Edwards began his career with Lone Star in 1929. He served in various capacities in Rockwall, Texas, and Purcell, Oklahoma. In 1959, he was appointed district manager at Hugo, Oklahoma, and then district manager at Sulphur Springs, Texas in 1964. Since 1967, he has been district manager at Seymour, Texas.

Edwards was graduated from high school at Corsicana and holds an accounting certificate from L. C. S., a correspondence school.

Active in church and community organizations at Seymour, he is a member of the First Baptist Church and has held the posts of vice president, Lions Club; president and director, Chamber of Commerce; secretary, Industrial Foundation and Industrial Committee.

Two Drown Over July 4th Holiday

Two accidental drownings marred an otherwise quiet Fourth of July. Highway patrolmen reported no major auto accidents in the area.

Dean Smith, 23, of Route 1, Rosebud, drowned about 3 p.m. Monday in the Brazos River at Baileyville, about 15 miles north-east of Cameron and 9-year-old Cindy Gayle Thweatt of Rockdale drowned about 7 p.m. Tuesday at Lake of the Pines near Jefferson, where her family was vacationing.

Smith was wading with his brother, sister-in-law, and her sister when they stepped off into about a 20-foot hole. The brother, Ted Smith, managed to pull the two women back, but was unable to reach Dean.

The drowning occurred at a fishing camp on the Dick Ellison farm where about 25 family members had been on an all-day picnic.

Milam County Sheriff Carl Black said Rosebud City Marshall Fletcher was first on the scene and alerted officers from Cameron, Marlin, Rosebud and Hearne to search for the body.

Four boats were used in the search with one manned by Cameron Volunteer Firemen. The body was recovered about 10 p.m.

Smith was a native of Milam County and had formerly lived with his family about 2 miles east of Ben Arnold.

Cindy Gale Thweatt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William T. Thweatt of Rockdale, also drowned while wading with members of her family who were vacationing in East Texas.

She is survived by her parents; one brother, William Tommy Thweatt Jr., of Rockdale; three sisters, Mrs. Sheron Ann Scurlock, of San Antonio; Tanya Faye Thweatt, of Rockdale; Susan Rene Thweatt, of Rockdale; and her grandparents, Mrs. W. B. Thweatt of Mayfield, and Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Cantrell, of Freeport.

Funeral services will be at 2 p.m. today (Thursday) at Phillips and Luckey Chapel, Rockdale, with Flavil R. Yeakley, Church of Christ minister, officiating. Burial will be in Pebble Grove Cemetery.

Mrs. Lula Hickman Dies In Cameron; Services Tuesday

Mrs. Lula Hickman died July 4 in a local hospital. She was 73. Funeral services were held at 2 p.m. July 5 at Marek-Burns Funeral Home with Rev. J. E. Lafferty officiating. Burial was in Oak Hill Cemetery.

Mrs. Hickman was born September 7, 1892 in Comanche County. She had lived in Cameron for 50 years.

Survivors include her husband, Monroe M. Hickman of Cameron; four sons, O. B. Hickman and Marion Hickman of Houston, T. M. Hickman of Waco, Gordon Hickman of Lake Jackson; five daughters, Mrs. Ethel Floyd and Mrs. Fay Henderson of Lake Jackson; Mrs. Doris O'Brien of Winfield, La.; Mrs. Eva Lou Oglesby of Fort Worth; Mrs. Margaret Michalka of Cameron; 29 grandchildren and 6 great grandchildren.

Pallbearers were Jim Edwards, Elmer Floyd, Brian Floyd, Ernest Elliott, Grady Allen Jr., Hank Henderson.

Rites Held For Mrs. Klecka, 56

Funeral services were 10 a.m. Monday at St. Cyril and Methodius Church, Marak, for Mrs. Marie Klecka, Rt. 2, Cameron, who died Friday in a Cameron hospital.

Officiating was Rev. George Bonhard, pastor of the Marak church. Burial was in St. Cyril and Methodius Cemetery.

Surviving are: Her husband F. J. Klecka; a son, Fabian Klecka, of Belton; a daughter, Miss Dorothy Klecka of West Virginia; a brother, Frank Plachy, of Cameron.

Pallbearers were: Anton Klecka, Jr., John Klecka, Frank Klecka, Jr., Frank Plachy, Jr., Henry Litzman, and Philip Hubnik, Jr.

City Darkened When Gas Transport Truck Hits Transformer

A gasoline transport truck hit a Teras Power & Light Co. transformer pole on East 6th Street Sunday night, leaving most of Cameron without electricity for about 45 minutes.

Sheriff Carl Black said witnesses reported a Ritter Oil Co. truck failed to make the turn at 6th and Burns about 8:30 p.m. Sunday, knocking over the pole and igniting sparks over nearby streets and yards.

Texas Power and Light Co. Manager Henry Siebman said service was restored for most of the city by 9:30 p.m. However homes in the immediate area were without electric power until about 1:30 a.m.

A new Dollar Day returns to Cameron stores next Monday, July 11.

Eleven downtown retail concerns joined in the first 1966 renewal of the traditional monthly day of savings in Cameron. Ads of the participating stores appear on Pages 4 and 5 of this edition.

For perhaps 60 years, Cameron and other Central Texas communities of long development have cited the first Monday of the month as a "trades day" or the day to shop in town. It is July 11 this month because of the Fourth of July holiday.

One legend has it that the first

Tour, Promotion Highlight Week

Through efforts of three Chamber committees, Public Relations, Trade Development, and Agriculture, Cameron and Milam County's agriculture industry will be honored the week of July 11 through July 16. Purpose of the program is to recognize and express the community's appreciation to this major phase of the economy.

Cameron stores and offices will display signs in windows and on doors expressing appreciation and employees will give an individual salute through the use of name tags. Retail stores handling Milam County farm products will tag the local products and a dollar day promotion by local merchants will feature the Agri-Industry Appreciation theme.

Other activities during the week will include the annual farm tour, Coleman Duncum, chairman, on July 14. The tour is open to the public with members of the business community especially urged to attend. The group will leave the Post Office at 8 a.m. A tour of the county's poultry industry will be held on July 12, climaxed by an open meeting with poultry specialists in the District courtroom that evening.

Monroe Fuchs, president of the Chamber of Commerce, said, "This is a special effort to honor our agriculture industry, which is a major phase of our community's economy. On behalf of every business and individual, who is a member of this organization, we salute all of the fine folk who make their living and render their service through the agriculture industry in Cameron and all of Milam County."

In support of this program, and representing the City of Cameron, Mayor Bassel Wilson has proclaimed the week of July 11 to July 16 "Agriculture Industry Appreciation Week."

Story Hour Today

At Cameron Library

Story Hour will be held from 9:30 to 10:30 a.m. today (Thursday) for children ages 3 through 10. Story and crafts are pre-school children will be directed by Mrs. George Bowman and Mrs. Bob Ellett. Mrs. James Kahler and Mrs. Frank Luecke will be in charge of the older group.

Last week 60 children registered for the first story hour in the new library building. Mrs. Kenneth Thweatt and Mrs. Robert Clark directed the program assisted by Judy Schofield. Mrs. Don Humble is in charge of the summer library program.

Visitation Day At

Cameron Pre-School

A public visitation day will be held Thursday, July 14, at the pre-school classes in O. J. Thomas School. The school will be open to the public from 8:30 to 11:30 a.m.

Dr. Herman Brown, administrator for the Title I school program, said 54 students were enrolled in the 6 week pre-school class. The course has covered health and play habits as well as basic school preparedness. Field trips have been made to Waco Zoo and the State Capitol. Teachers are Mrs. Frances Hensley, Mrs. Nan Hudson and Mrs. M. L. Wilhite.

Eleven Concerns Start...

Dollar Day Renewal

A new Dollar Day returns to Cameron stores next Monday, July 11.

Eleven downtown retail concerns joined in the first 1966 renewal of the traditional monthly day of savings in Cameron. Ads of the participating stores appear on Pages 4 and 5 of this edition.

For perhaps 60 years, Cameron and other Central Texas communities of long development have cited the first Monday of the month as a "trades day" or the day to shop in town. It is July 11 this month because of the Fourth of July holiday.

One legend has it that the first

Monday was the day that mule sales were held and people went into town to trade mules and buy groceries and merchandise.

This was before the day of the modern auction sale each week. But the tradition continues as people look forward to savings in just about every type of retail store during "dollar day", a more modern, but still traditional term for the old "trades day".

Jerome Friesenhahn, trade development chairman of the Cameron Chamber of Commerce, invites merchants throughout the community to join in the monthly community promotion.

"The greater the participation, the better the savings for Milam trade area customers and the better the business for participating stores," he said.

Friesenhahn and Porter Young, another young downtown businessman, organized contacts for the renewal of the "dollar day" program here.

Participating this month are: Ben Franklin Store, Penney's, Schigut's, Culpepper's, Eplen Furniture, Harden Jewelry, Lewis - Chili Shoe Store, New Cameron Pharmacy, E. O. Schiller Pharmacy, Viv-Rae's, and Cameron Lumber Co.

EARLY ROCKDALE SCENE — This is believed to be the first picture of Rockdale, founded in 1874, which was taken in the 1870's. The sign designates "H. P. Hale & Co." which, it is said, was the forerunner of the Rockdale firm of Scarbrough & Hicks, who later occupied the building and all the others including the building designated "post office." Henry Brodnax, a native Rockdalian now of Liberty, places the site across the street from Rockdale City Hall. He says the old H. P. Hale store was in the latter location, not where Scarbrough & Hicks located. Mrs. Bebe Hicks Coonly, of El Paso, a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Hicks, submitted the picture. She found it among the possessions of her grandmother, Mrs. R. H. Hicks. Mrs. Coonly paints pictures of the Old West at her El Paso Paisano studio.

Indians Hold Narrow Lead Over Yankees In Little League Wins

The Yankees came from behind to beat the White Socks 6 to 3 June 21 at Cameron L.L. Field. The Socks scored their three runs in the first inning and held the lead until the bottom of the fourth when Chester Buchanan of the Yankees got a double to send in the winning score. The Yankees got one run in the bottom of the first inning and five runs in the bottom of the fourth. Mario Vargas was credited with the win and Ladis Barr was charged with the loss.

Scoring for the White Socks were: Tony Vargas 1, Gary Fuchs 1, Joe Vargas 1.

Scoring for the Yankees were: Dean Prokisch 1, Ricky Watkins 1, Mike Young 1, David Eanes 1, Chester Buchanan 2.

Dennis Hardwick's pitching and errors made by the Bears gave the Cardinals a 11 to 6 win June 23. The Cardinals picked up 2 runs in the top of the first on a single hit by Phil Garrett, 2 runs in the top of the third, three runs in the top of the fourth on a double hit by Donald Scott, one run in the top of the fifth on a double by Gary Thweatt and three runs in the top sixth on a double by Nelson Mascarenhas.

The Bears scored one run in the bottom of the second on a triple hit by Jack Kirk, three runs in the bottom of the fourth on a double by Rickey Sapp, one run in the bottom of the fifth, and one run in the bottom of the sixth when Rickey Sapp got a triple. Jack Kirk was the losing pitcher.

Donnie Tucker's triple in the bottom of the sixth inning sent in the tying and winning runs to give the Indians a 7 to 6 victory over the White Socks June 24th. The Indians came into the sixth inning behind 6 to 2 but were allowed three walks and doubles hit by Glenn Cummings and Fred Rangel, and a single by Ronnie Chamberlain. Their other two runs came in the bottom of the 2nd inning, all on singles. David Hollas pitched the entire game to be credited with the win. The White Socks scored three runs in the top of the first inning, one in the top of the fourth on a double by Larry Eickenhorst, and two runs in the top of the fifth on Larry Eickenhorst's second double of the game. Larry Eickenhorst was the only pitcher used by the Socks and was charged with the loss.

Scoring for the Indians were: Ronnie Chamberlain 1, Kenneth Kirk 1, Glenn Cummings 2, James Meek 2, and Fred Rangel 1.

Scoring for the White Socks were: Gary Fuchs 1, Mike Malone 1, Roger Reed 1, Jimmy Rivers 1, and Donald Shuffield 2.

The Yankees defeated the Bears June 27th, 12 to 4 to put the Yankees in second place in the league.

The first inning went three up and three down for both sides. Each team scored one run in the second inning. After that the Yankees took over the game. Joe Vaculin of the Yankees got a home run in the sixth inning.

Dean Prokisch took the win with Kenneth Dusek taking the loss. Scoring for the Yankees were: John Barron 2, Chester Buchanan 2, Mario Vargas 2, Joe Vaculin 2, Dean Prokisch 2, Bruce McAttee 1, Craig Friemel 1.

Scoring for the Bears were: Mike Zajcek 1, Jack Kirk 1, Glenn Cummings 1, Bubba Shuffield 1. Standings as of 6-27-66:

Ernest de la Rosa's three triples and a double together with a triple by Ned McElverath helped the Colts to defeat the Cardinals 12 to 7. The Cardinals took an early lead in the game by scoring three runs in the bottom of the first inning when Dennis Hardwick got a triple with two men on bases. On a single by Donald Scott, Hardwick came in to score. The Cardinals other runs came one in the bottom of the fourth and three runs in the bottom of the fifth when Nelson Mascarenhas bagged a triple with two men on bases.

The Colts were able to bring in scores each inning to go ahead of the Cardinals in the third inning and were able to hold the lead by their hitting. Norman Trubee was the winning pitcher and Dennis Hardwick was the losing pitcher.

Ever stuff baby chickens with a mixture of cooked wild rice and chopped blanched almonds? Season the stuffing mixture and moisten with melted butter. Bake the chickens with melted butter while they are roasting. Serve to guests.

To make a "spider web" trim atop a white-frosted cake, melt a little chocolate. With a teaspoon dribble the chocolate over the frosting in pinwheel fashion. Then quickly run the tip of the small spatula from the center of the cake to the edge in spoke fashion, pulling the chocolate from each hand of the pinwheel.

Wash that grater or shredder right after using it for orange or lemon peel so the peel won't stick to the small holes. A kitchen brush should be used in washing.

Use that leftover meat loaf for an hors d'oeuvre. Cut into small squares and broil, brush with butter if you like, during the broiling. Tastes good with tomato juice.

Do not discard rinds of grapefruit, oranges or lemons. Grate the rinds first, put in a tightly covered glass jar and store in the refrigerator. Makes excellent flavoring for cakes, frostings and such.

To keep loaf or layer cake fresh after it has been cut, wrap a large slice of fresh bread in with it before putting away. The bread will dry out but the cake will remain moist.

To cut a fresh cake use a wet knife.

Flour should be sifted once before measuring. Fill the cup without packing.

For people who say they can't eat onions - soak the onions in milk before using them.

Just before you put your dust mop in action, spray it with a lightly scented air freshener. The spray will dampen the mop enough to make dust pickup easier, and the scent will help clear away musty smells.

Make your own fire extinguisher to keep in your kitchen; use an empty salt box with a pour spout and fill with baking soda. Cover the outside of the box, if you like, with attractive paper.

Hang wet blankets so the stripes run down, this keeps colors from running into one another.

A layer of aluminum foil between the ironing pad and top cover produces more heat and speeds ironing.

Put a piece of wax paper under the trays in the refrigerator and they will come out easier.

A woman's discarded purse makes a good first-aid kit for the barn workshop or car. The purse will keep the medical supplies dust free and handy for emergencies.

To save mess when sewing, Scotch tape a paper bag to the sewing machine and put all the threads and scraps to be thrown away in it, eliminating a lot of work of cleaning up the threads, etc. that always accumulate.

File away patterns according to size when you finish using them.

Hanover Succeeds D. C. Greer

Joseph G. Hanover, 48, took over as district engineer of the Texas Highway Department's District 17 in Bryan July 1. State Highway Engineer D. C. Greer announced.

Hanover succeeds C. B. (Tim) Thames as head of Highway Department activities in 10 Central and East Texas counties. Thames has been district engineer since 1957.

Thames, a veteran of 42 years with the Department, has retired effective June 30. He has accepted a highway engineering position in the Middle East.

Hanover is a native of McGregor. He attended grade school in Wheelock and graduated from high school in Franklin.

He joined the Texas Highway Department in 1940 at Hearne after receiving his degree in Civil Engineering from Texas A&M University.

During World War II, Hanover served five years in the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers, leaving the service with the rank of captain.

Grape Juice Sets Taste Buds Poppin'

Fasting is now a thing of the past but millions of people will continue to practice voluntary self-denial. For some, there may be no in-between meal snacking — just beverages. An ideal beverage is Vitamin C enriched Welch's Concentrated Grape Juice, made only of Vintage Concord grapes for unique flavor. Rich in levulose, it provides quick energy so often needed at such times. For those partaking of frequent meatless meals, broiled shad roe with scrambled eggs, tomato wedges and thick slices of cheese bread offer a satisfying and tasty solution. Taste buds will be poppin' when this specialty is accompanied by cold glasses of Vintage Concord grape juice.

Savory Shad Roe
2 (7 1/2 oz.) cans shad roe 6 tablespoons melted butter
Juice of 1 lemon Parsley and tomato
3/4 teaspoon salt wedges
3/4 teaspoon pepper

Wipe shad roe with dampened paper towel. Brush with lemon juice and butter. Dust with salt and pepper. Place roe on well-oiled broiler. Broil 6 minutes on one side 4 inches from heat. Turn and broil 4-6 minutes on other side. Arrange on warm platter and garnish with parsley and tomato wedges. Serves 4.

VOTE URGED—

Only in the event that a tax increase or bond issue is called does the public vote on funding for urban renewal programs.

McCullin pointed out that though considerable publicity has been given the downtown "block", no program has yet been drawn up. He added that a four-block square area of the business area had been discussed.

McCullin urged the people present not just to drive around the courthouse square, but to walk along the streets to see the conditions of buildings there.

Because of such conditions, McCullin noted, he said the Planning Commission thus far had given first priority to business community improvement, relating its importance to the current industrial fund program underway here.

VOTE 'FOR' URGED

Wells reiterated the importance of voting for the first referendum vote in that it authorizes only the planning part of the urban renewal program, that "we won't know the possibilities unless we take the program to the point where we see what must be done." Perrin urged, in a closing statement, that people take a wide view of the program, that the needs of the community be and that the program be given a fair trial by a positive vote in the referendum to follow in the next 30 days.

McCullin thanked the crowd for attending the public hearing and introduced officials sitting at the head table earlier in the evening: CITY - Councilmen Starrett Hickman, Lawrence Zolt and Wells. PLANNING COMMISSION - E. O. Schiller Jr., Bill Burns, Mrs. Forrest Sapp and Perrin.

ENGINEERS - C. K. Cason and a Mr. Green, a firm associate of Bernard Johnson Engineers, recommended to the city for the engineering and technical work in any Cameron Urban Renewal program.

Insurance Higher For Northeast Texas

Most drivers in Northeastern Texas will have to pay $2 per year more for liability insurance on policies signed on or after August 1.

Bell, Coryell, Falls and Lampasas counties are considered in Northeastern Texas. In Milam and Williamson counties, considered in Southeastern Texas, the basic liability rates will increase by $3.

The State Board of Insurance approved rate increases from $43 to $45 per year for basic bodily injury and property damage policies. The $100-deductible collision policy, however, will decrease in cost by $2, and the full-coverage comprehensive will drop $1 for the average driver, over 25 and using his new Ford or Chevrolet to drive to work. The $50-deductible collision coverage will also decrease in cost by $2, so all coverages combined will fall by $1.

While his father's insurance does a lot, the son isn't so lucky. His basic liability will go from $14 to $125 if he is under 25, owns his own car and is unmarried. It will increase from $71 to $103 if his parents own the car.

Mr. and Mrs. Billie Floyd Dodson are the parents of a baby girl, Velvet Denise. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Walter Malone of Baytown and Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Dodson of Cameron.

Miss Suellen Moore.

M. C. Allison To Marry In August

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Moore of Temple announce the engagement of their daughter, Suellen to Michael Clifford Allison, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Allison of Cameron.

Miss Moore is a graduate of Temple High School and has completed her freshman year at Temple Junior College.

The future bridegroom, who attended Temple Junior College two years, and is employed at Keller Aluminum Co., at Colwell.

The wedding will be August 6 at the First Baptist Church of Temple.

Student's - Eye View Of Summer Program At Cameron Schools

(Ed Note: The following article on activities on the Yoe High campus during the summer program was composed by students in the remedial reading class.)

Summer School started on June 6th and will continue until July 15th - but what is actually happening at this busy place? For an answer to this question, come and go with us on an observation tour during the second period of the day.

At Ben Milam School, seventy pupils and four teachers are busy with reading, writing, and arithmetic. They were listening to a tape recording of a story. When the recording was finished they read it aloud to the teacher and answered questions in a notebook. These are pupils from 6 to 8 years of age and in the first three grades of school - a happy working group.

A lecture was being given to the Driver's Education Class in the Yoe High Library. Outside this classroom many changes are taking place as the halls are full of desks, tables and various types of equipment, while the classroom is being painted, woodwork varnished and floors being sanded.

Dodson Descendants Have 51st Reunion At Cameron Park

The first consecutive Dodson family reunion was held Sunday, July 3, at Cameron City Park. 33 descendants, relatives and friends of the two Milam County pioneer brothers, R. C. Dodson and Solomon Dodson, in whose memory the reunion is held were present.

Signing the register were: Mrs. Bernice Dodson Peed and E. L. Peed, Johnny Russell, Gene Phipps and Kathryn, Sina and Ruth Price, Mrs. Estelle Maddox, Kenny Centeno, Willie and Francis Dodson Phipps, Elvia Hickman, Joan Childers and boys Michael and Todd.

Jim, Lora, Bridgit, Mike, Jeff, Pamela and Steven Mortimer, Allen Dodson Jr. and a friend Miss Judy McKie from Alpina, Michigan, Tommy Phipps, Imogene Dodson Jennings, Steven, Nancy and Terry Jennings, Mrs. Fannie Dodson, John Bickett Dodson, Miss Kate Nesbit.

Mr. and Mrs. Erving Dodson, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Weems, Bentley and Jewel Dodson, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Mekush and children, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Poch and Lee, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Dodson and Velvet, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Dodson, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Dodson, Mrs. Laverne Dodson Deloney and children Jim, Melissa, David and Laura.

Mrs. D. M. Hamilton, Thurman and Lorane Dodson Beatrice, George and Mark Bradshaw, Eula Faye, Belinda and Phil Stephenson, Ruby, Buster, Russell, Harvey, Teresa and Clell Lee Wise.

Conrad and Cil Edmonds, Debbie Sanders, Ava, Alcy, and Shirley Shuffield, Mrs. Allie Shuffield, Mrs. Sallie Quisenberry, Homer Dodson, Birdie Dodson.

The girls of the H. E. Dept were making real progress on their individual plans. They were learning how to thread the machine, how to place the pattern on the material and how to cut the material.

As usual in the summer, Mr. Cox, the Yoe High Band Director, was busy with a beginning band pupil. He reported that about 45 students will be placed in the Senior Band at the opening of school. Sixty-eight members were left in the band after graduation.

Bernard Kostrom and Larry Jungmann were busy at work in the Ag building - they have just finished building six bicycle racks and have plans for other playground equipment to be built.

In the Ada Henderson building things were really humming. One reading group was having a discussion on Words; the building of a vocabulary. Then they had a session with the Controlled Reader.

Fifteen pupils in the next classroom were correcting papers they had written the previous day. Two teachers were making this activity an individual project.

"Upper Case Cursive Letters - For Seeing, Hearing and Spelling" was the name of the filmstrip being shown the pupils in writing and spelling. Fifteen students were being cautioned by this filmstrip to:

1. Hear the word right,
2. Say the word right, and
3. Spell the word right.

The 4th grade Arithmetic class was a hum of activity as they worked columns of addition.

Boys and girls of the 6th grade social studies class were locating capitals of European countries.

Scout clauses held the attention of the group in language arts class as they attempted to locate each in the assignment.

Back of all of this pictured activity has been much planning by many people and the results can be evaluated only as the individual pupil makes use of what he has learned.

State Bar Cites

E. B. Camp Services

The State Bar of Texas adopted the following resolution honoring former Bar Director Emory B. Camp, at the Associations annual meeting in San Antonio last week.

RESOLUTION
The Texas legal profession sustained a great loss in the recent and untimely passing of Emory B. Camp of Cameron.

Mr. Camp, an eminent lawyer, began practicing at Cameron upon his graduation from the University of Texas Law School in 1933. In recent years, he also maintained law offices at his native Rockdale. During his distinguished legal career, he served as a member of the Texas House of Representatives and later as District Attorney of Milam County. He was president of the Milam County Bar Association in 1960-61; and was long prominent in civic affairs at Cameron and Rockdale.

Mr. Camp was an outstanding member of this Board from 1962 to 1965. Only a few days before he passed away, his fellow-lawyers honored him by electing him a Fellow of the Texas Bar Foundation.

Through his interest and exemplary service to the Organized Bar, Mr. Camp contributed immeasurably to the progress and welfare of his profession. His talents, his ability and his friendship will long be remembered by his fellow-practitioners and leaders of the Texas Bar.

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that we, the members of the Texas State Bar's Board of Directors, in regular session assembled at San Antonio this 2nd day of July, 1966, express our heart-felt sympathy to Mrs. Camp and their children, and to Mr. Camp's associates and his fellow-citizens at Cameron and Rockdale.

5 Milam Centers Cited With Awards
Five Milam county communities received Certificates at an Awards Program on July 1, at the Maysfield School, Branchville, Maysfield, Gause, Davilla and Griffin Chapel communities received Certificates.

Cash Awards were given to Maysfield Community, Division I and Gause Community, Division II, each receiving $25 from funds provided by the Electric Utility Companies of Texas.

The presentations were made by Henry Siebman, local manager of Texas Power & Light Company, W. G. McCoy, Agricultural Representative of Texas Power & Light Company, also spoke at the program.

The Community Improvement Program is based on local effort aimed at increasing and managing income, improving farms and homes, increasing social participation and improving health conditions and services.

History Backdrop For Democracy

The Herald presents the second installment of "The Growth of Democracy" begun last week on the eve of July 4. Written by 1966 YHS salutatorian Cheryl Robbins, the theme cites the background of the American heritage of democracy - Ed.

By Cheryl Robbins
Democracy in Greece reached its height under Pericles, who believed that all citizens should be equal politically.

Greece also had some philosophers who were advanced in their thinking. Plato and Socrates defended the right of men to criticize their government. Aristotle believed that the government should rest upon the consent of the many. Although the Grecian democracy was imperfect and limited, it was a beginning.

In 527 A.D. Justinian became emperor of Rome. Justinian provided the people with a legal code called the Digest. This Digest was a clear, compact record of legal thought which contained all the wisdom of previous centuries. This code became the basis of civil justice in the Western world.

The people of Greece and Rome were not the only people who were struggling for a place in their government. The people of England began to realize that there was something lacking in their governmental systems. True, William the Conqueror, Henry I, Henry II, and Richard the Lion-Hearted issued charters which guaranteed some rights to the people, but these charters were limited and dependent upon the will of the king.

The three greatest charters of English liberty came as the result of efforts on the part of the people and were granted unwillingly by the king. In the year 1215 a group of dissatisfied and determined nobles forced King John to sign the Magna Carta. This "Great Charter" established two far-reaching precedents: first, that the power of a ruler is limited; and second, that human rights are more important than the sovereignty of kings.

This document was followed by another great document, the Petition of Right. King Charles I signed this document in 1628 settling the idea of no taxation without representation.

But the people demanded more freedom from the king. So, in 1689 the Bill of Rights was enacted. It forbade the king to suspend acts of Parliament, levy taxes without Parliament's consent, keep a standing army in time of peace, and interfere with elections.

The Revolution of 1688 marked the triumph of Parliament over autocratic monarchy in England. Parliament set aside the son of James II, who was a Catholic and the heir to the throne, and invited James' elder daughter, a Protestant, to rule jointly with her husband. This was a decided step forward in the slow but sure progress of democracy.

Yet, the freedom and liberty of religion, which is so dear to any individual who has ever been a part of a democracy, was lacking to many men. This desire to worship God according to the dictates of one's heart was the force that gave the Pilgrims the courage to undertake an unknown journey over a treacherous ocean. With the landing of the Pilgrims in 1620, Christian self-government became the foundation stone of the United States of America. "The stone which the builders refused is become the head stone of the corner."

This new land of opportunity continued to grow until there were thirteen new, struggling colonies. However, the mother country ignored the rights of her colonists although she had guaranteed them in their charters all the privileges of Englishmen. When she set about to fit them into her mercantile system she appointed leaders over them who were unsympathetic and selfish in dealing with them. This created friction between England and the colonies which resulted in the Stamp Act and the Boston Tea Party.

This friction mounted until on July 4, 1776, the colonists declared themselves independent with the familiar words "We hold these Truths to be self-evident."

The Revolution which followed was filled with many battles, much hardship and sickness, and many deaths. Yet, these men were willing to fight and die to obtain their freedom, their democracy, their dream of a free tomorrow.

The fallacies of the Articles of Confederation, however, made the settlers wonder if they had fought and died for nothing. The writing of the Constitution in the summer of 1787 convinced the settlers that they had not fought in vain.

Something was terribly wrong with this new document, though. Where were the guarantees of the rights for which they had fought the Revolution? Many of the states refused to ratify the Constitution unless these rights would be added as soon as the new document was ratified. With this promise the Constitution became the law of the land.

Thus America lived and grew. It was not long, however, until she was torn with civil war. But the United States survived the war and the dissenting states again became partners in the fight for freedom.

There can be no realization of life without death, no virtue without vice, no beauty without the hideous, and no freedom without opposition. Two great World Wars have shown us that there is opposition to the wonderful dream of democracy. Men and women of this present century have fought and died for our wonderful country.

try, our wonderful dream of democracy.

And so our task is no less great than that of our forefathers, than that of the men who centuries ago blazed the trail for succeeding generations. It now becomes evident, that nothing in history suggests that American democracy was easily obtained, but on the contrary that the cost of freedom was great. The preservation of our ideals of freedom shall remain not only costly but also priceless, for as history has revealed, democracy is the only governmental institution which truly recognizes the dignity and worth of each individual.

Today we stand, almost without support, on a world in which men go to great ends to prove that there is something better than democracy. We contend that there is nothing better than our democracy which is the product of centuries of thought, countless ideas, and many men's quests.

The preservation of democracy depends upon the united efforts of all individuals who hold its truths dear to their hearts. There must not only be unity of individuals, but also unity of man with God, unity of one state, one nation with another. We must preserve democracy. I will ally myself with my classmates, and we will arm ourselves with education and faith in God, and we will be ever vigilant.

"Dream dreams, see visions, and you will serve others."

Personal Mention

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Moore and Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Kraemer spent the July 4th holiday in New Orleans.

Barbara Blissard of Dumont, New Jersey, is visiting her grandmother, Mrs. August Knipp. Mr. and Mrs. Blissard will join her in Cameron next week and return to New Jersey after a stop in Houston, their former home.

Among the 4th of July weekend visitors in Cameron were the W. K. Leonards of LaMarque, Jane Wied, a freshman student at Texas Tech in Lubbock, the Tally Denson family from Irving, and the E. O. Smith children from Houston who were houseguests of Donna Kemp, Joan Lester, Hill Culpepper and Bill Perrin.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Dillon and baby of Hondo are visiting their families in Cameron this week.

Mrs. John Davis, Mrs. E. L. Wied and Mrs. Guy Chandler visited the David Shapiro's in Port Acres recently while daughter Judy was home for a short visit. She has been with the Peace Corps in Thailand, returning to the United States via an extended tour of Europe. Her visit in Texas came following her wedding in New York, to Dr. Bill Goldstein. They will live in New York City.

Mrs. Jeanne Dase, the former Jeanne Lester, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lester, Cameron, has accepted the position of elementary teacher at McDonald Elementary School, K. I. Sawyer AFB, Michigan. She received her bachelor of science degree at Northern Michigan University with a major in elementary education.

Robert Lee Salach and young son of Hammond, Indiana are visiting his mother Mrs. Milotte Salach and other relatives.

Keith Dodson treated younger brother Mark to an exciting Houston visit including a plane trip to Houston, baseball game at the Domet Stadium, and train ride back to Cameron. Keith Dodson, a June graduate of the University of Texas, is employed by Brown & Root in Houston. They are sons of Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Dodson. Mrs. W. B. Donaldson and son Russel of Oxford, Ala. spent the weekend visiting her cousins Mrs. Sam Houston, Mrs. W. W. Coulver and Mrs. Edgar Love in Temple.

Mrs. Hubert Butler and Mrs. Freida Meyers visited Mr. and Mrs. Barton Brown in Texas City the past week.

Martha and Susie Matocha of Houston have been visiting their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Matocha.

Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Lucas have returned from a month's visit in Sacramento, California with their son, Hugh Lucas, and family. While there they attended the graduation exercises of their granddaughter, Patti Lu, from El Camino High School. Enroute to California they visited another son, G. Clayton Lucas and family in Houston and attended the graduation of their granddaughter Badi-

Forms 941 To Be Sent To Employers

Employers in the Ausan District of Internal Revenue will receive through the mail on or about June 30, pre-addressed Forms 941, "Employers Quarterly Federal Tax" come taxes withheld and social security taxes for the calendar quarter ending June 30, 1966. District Director R. L. Phinney pointed out today.

bara from Westbury High.

The use of these pre-addressed forms, which also carry the correct employer identification number, will insure the prompt and proper credit to taxpayer accounts when these quarterly returns are processed through the ADP system at the regional service center.

Phinney said also that blank forms are available in the District and local offices for new filers and urged that those employers who have been assigned identification numbers make sure the number entered on the tax form is correct.

County Agent's Notes

Shortcourse Here For Cattlemen

By J. D. Moore

A cattle reproduction shortcourse will be held here in Cameron at the Livestock Auction Barn on the night of July 25 and the morning of July 26. Larry Miller of Texas A&M and local veterinarians will direct the program.

Classroom "Physiology of Reproduction" will be discussed in detail at the night meeting and a "Fertility Testing Shortcourse" will be conducted the morning of July 26. All those interested in the cattle industry are urged to mark this on their calendar for this important meeting.

Milam County Field Crops Tour Announced - The annual Milam Field Crops Tour will be held on July 14. The group will leave from the Post Office Building in Cameron promptly at 8 a.m. We should finish the tour by noon. Details of the tour will be announced as soon as they are complete. The public is invited to go on this tour and "take a look".

Honeydew on Trees - Its about the time of the year for car owners to stop parking their cars under pecan, elm and sycamore trees that is if they do not want a "sticky" substance on their car that is very hard to wash off.

This Honeydew is caused by a small insect called an "aphid" or more commonly called plant lice that excrete a sweet substance in abundance. This material drops on leaves, stems, bark of trees and automobiles where it dries. A sooty mold grows in this medium producing a blackened appearance.

Ants and honey bees feed on honeydew avidly. Some most interesting biological relationships have developed between ants and aphids where the ants protect and care for the aphids to secure the honeydew they excrete.

Control - If you do not want these aphids around, you may have your trees sprayed. Malathion, Parathion, B. H. C. Nicotine Sulphate or Diazinon may be used. Detailed information is available at the Extension Office. Several men in the County are available to do commercial spraying. In the Cameron area Terry Hardwick whose phone number is OX7-4504, will spray your trees for you.

Midge In Maize - This small insect migrates from johnson grass into maize about the time the maize head comes out of the boot. The adult midge deposit their eggs in the flower of the maize. This egg hatches into a tiny maggot that destroys the seed. All maize should be poisoned that has not set seed by now. Materials to use include Sevin, Parathion, Tophen, Ethion, Diazinon and Trithion.

4-H CLUB NOTES

The Milam County 4-H Horse Club will enter the district 4-H Horse Show to be held at Meridian, Texas, on Saturday, July 9, 1966. The Horse Show will be held in the Meridian Riding Club Arena on Highway 6. The event will start at 9 a.m.

The Milam 4-Hers have been working hard in preparing for the district show. They have been practicing twice a week as a group since Tuesday, May 31. Members of the Horse Club include: Abbie Batte; Martha & Murray McDermott; Doris & Nancy Allen; Jo Ann, Thomas & Nancy Jensen; Shelley & Renda Roddam; Carolyn Silvey; and John Grimm. Outstanding Leadership has been given to the 4-H group by Dr. Lyle McDermott, Don Roddam and John Batte.

The Milam County 4-H Swine Club will hold a swine tour Friday, July 8, 1966. The purpose of this tour will be to check the feeding & management of those 4-Hers who received Sears gilt last April. The event will start at 7:30 a.m. at the Cameron Post Office. Stops will be made at all ten farms throughout the County. Records and other management practices will be checked at these ten stops. The following 4-Hers are raising the gilts, Clyde Jistel and Ricky Richter of Cameron; Edmond Tepera, Marak; Mike Tovery, Thorndale; James Gause and Carl Wilson, Gause; Elizabeth Nelson and Ella Wilson, Milano; Tommy Terrell, Calvert and Christene Kerr, Buckholts.

SECOND SECTION

Study Objective

Improved Agriculture

COLLEGE STATION
About 175 Texas agricultural leaders and Texas A&M University College of Agriculture staff members met here June 27-29 to begin a study of the state's farming and ranching industry.

The session was the Agricultural Study Convocation, a project requested by the A&M Board of Directors because of the importance of agriculture to the Texas economy, its increasing complexity, and the state-wide responsibility of A&M to the industry.

Nationally known authorities spoke at the meetings and suggested various approaches for the study.

A. E. Cascino, vice president for sales of International Minerals, Inc., in Illinois, said the study should be aware of the "great transition" underway internationally. The U. S. has operated in an economy dominated by agricultural surpluses, but if it is to help feed the world, it must learn to live with the world shift to a food-deficient economy.

"The most important thing is to get rid of provincial interests and bias," Cascino said. "You can't think entirely as citizens of Texas or the United States. There are no political boundaries. You are citizens of the world, producing food for the world."

F. R. Wilcox of the American Arbitration Association at Pasadena, Calif., said farm people can no longer leave merchandising of their products to other persons.

"Through group action of various kinds, producers will find it necessary to advertise and merchandise to the extent of expenditures which, in some instances, will be as much as 10 to 20 percent of the wholesale price," he said.

H. C. Heldenfels of Corpus Christi, president of the A&M Board of Directors, said the convocation could be the most important planning effort ever made by the university.

He said if Texas is to remain an agricultural leader, it must use advanced technology and management, develop enterprises which have advantages over those of other states, and encourage in-state, out-of-state and world markets for its products.

W. W. Lynch of Dallas, president of the Texas Power & Light Company, said nothing is more important than research to agriculture, and nothing is more profitable.

The problem "seems to be one of enlisting the interest and support of the local people, of showing what can be accomplished and of laying the ground work for the rather substantial financial program necessary to put the lands in a suitable condition for high productivity," he said.

The Provost for Agriculture of the University of Florida, E. T. York, said that land-grant universities, such as Texas A&M, should seek help from other sections of the university instead of leaving the job entirely to the college of agriculture.

His talk centered on mobilizing resources of a land-grant university to support a dynamic agricultural industry.

"I would suggest very strongly that we need to mobilize resources within the university, but outside the college of agriculture, to assist with many problems which go beyond problems of agricultural technology," he said. "I should emphasize the fact that while some of these problems are peculiar to agriculture, many others are problems of a total society which are merely shared by agriculture."

A&M President Earl Rudder said an internal study by the university's College of Agriculture staff members has just been completed as a possible reference for the external study group. The external study should be finished late this year.

WHEN VARMINT HUNTING

An ordinary sponge makes a good gun rest when varmit hunting. Attach sponge with rubber bands to the forearm of gunstock.

Closer To The Truth

Something of the expanse of Texas myth and the diversity of Texas reality is caught in pictures by the current two-part series in Life.

Heralded as a place "Where a man can try anything — and anything he tries will likely work", the first installment gives a broader picture of Texas, broader than general Eastern misconceptions would grant.

The contrast of booming metro cities and their hinterland bosom tells the rest of the U.S.A. and many Texans what they are want to know — that Texas is as big, and as open as the stuff dreams are made of, and yet a complex society.

A mountain panorama of the Big Bend country, looking like the familiar Rockies, a night scene of three whooping cranes in flight, a glistening view of Galveston Bay's "donkey" oil derricks, a collage of Texas architecture — these surprise and perhaps delight Yankee and Texan alike.

But Life does modern justice to a cliché of personality now fading. In David Nevin's text on "A People Out for Stars, Not Peanuts," the writer takes an overdue hack at the time-honored stereotype of the Texas millionaire. Listen:

"But none of these men, from hard-trading old Clint Murchison to the quiet Troy Post, is loud. Power doesn't need to be. The cruel stereotype, the loud, bragging, big rich Texan in $200 boots and outsized Cadillac, certainly exists — but he is harder and harder to find now."

The opportunity still exists, but Life's pictures show more than oil, cotton and cattle. It reveals the industrial sophistication, the open tradition and the rawbone breadth of the state.

It is an interesting spread, this spread on Texas, and the kind of publicity Texas deserves after perhaps 25 or 30 years of hackneyed shots by writers who visit the state, but seldom "know the territory."

And it bewilders even the most traveled Texan in Texas that his travelogue could see so much within those boundaries.

Life brings readers a little closer to the truth about Texas.

Mr. Frank M. Luecke
Editor, The Cameron Herald
Cameron, Texas

Dear Mr. Luecke:
The recent articles in The Herald, pertaining to the fiftieth anniversary re-union of the graduating class of 1916, really brought back memories. I remember all the members of this class.

It also brought back many other recollections, especially to a good man who was the school janitor for many years. I have written a poem to his memory, which is enclosed. I do not mention his name, but I know all the old timers will readily identify him. Sincerely yours,
Jesse Wilkerson

IN REMEMBRANCE
You won't find him listed in any Hall of Fame.
But those who knew him, will long honor his name.
He was the school janitor, a simple and kindly man.

When in need, it was he, to whom the children ran.
He swept the floors, kept everything clean.
Dirt or dust was never to be seen.
Come cold or rain, or whatever might betide,
The rooms were always warm and cozy inside.

If his hands were on the rope of the tardy bell,
And he saw you coming, he'd wait for a spell.
'Hurry along, my child,' he would kindly say,
'Start earlier tomorrow, don't tarry on the way.'

From kindergarten to graduation, all down thru the years,
He shared their problems, their joys and tears.

At class re-unions, he was the honored guest,
Happy with his children, loved beyond all the rest.

Yes, he will be remembered for his service to all.
Always ready, always within call.
No greater award can be bestowed in this land,
Than the love and esteem of one's fellow man.

PRECISION PLANTED COTTON

Citton planting at Texas A&M University with a precision planter on pre-shaped beds is off to a fine start. Lambert Wilkes, agricultural engineer, says it's from a fourth to a half higher and the stand much better than for adjacent cotton planted by conventional methods. It was up to a complete stand in 6 days compared with 14 for conventional planting.

What's Ahead For Legislature

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN
Everyone in the State from Gov. John Connally on down to each rookie patrolman, did his best to hold down July 4th holiday deaths and accidents.

Now, with the long, tensioned weekend behind, the State is taking a look at what's ahead for the 1967 Legislative session.

Among other things, Governor Connally wants a new, tough code of traffic laws — somewhat like the uniform traffic code. He wants money for more highway patrolmen, the present force of 725 being about one-third the number needed.

He also wants stringent penalties for convictions of driving while intoxicated, speeding and reckless driving — and a one-year license suspension "without opportunity for redemption" on second offense.

Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr says the 1967 Legislature may want to take another look at the 1965 law change in college building appropriations.

As it now stands, seven state colleges will receive less revenue from the new 10-cent per $100 ad valorem tax allocation for college construction than they did under the old five-cent rate.

These are Texas A&I, Texas Southern, Texas Woman's University, East Texas State, Sam Houston, West Texas State and Scl Ross. None can start new buildings in the next two years without what's now allocated to them.

State Water Pollution Control Board approved a committee of the Cattle Feeders Division, Texas and Southwest Cattle Raisers Association, which plans to ask the 1967 Legislature for a feed lot licensing law, tying in with water pollution control.

Committee members are Grady Shepard, Hale Center; James V. Witherspoon, Hereford; Alfred Negley, San Antonio; Fred Wolff, Brady; and Jack Curruthers, Fortona.

Hereford Feed Yards, Inc., with which Witherspoon is associated, just received the first Water Pollution Control Board permit for disposal of wastes from cattle feed lot. It provides that the company retain waste runoff waters from all rainfalls of two inches or less in a day, and lots must provide for dewatering retention facilities between rainfalls by spray irrigation.

OTHER POLLUTION PLANS
Pollution-Multiple Use Legislative Study Committee, headed by Sen. Culp Krueger of El Campo, will hold public hearings in early fall to check into salt water disposal problems in oil and gas fields — and pollution problems resulting from feed lot operations, plus septic tank problems that could lead to water pollution.

LIVESTOCK WORLD HIGHLIGHTS
Annual health in Texas comes to the front ranks in agricultural livestock concern nowadays.

Screwworm eradication workers at the sterile fly plant in Mission stepped up eradication efforts in the Brooks-Goliad-Beeville area where six cases were reported last week and in the stretch from Culberson County to Eddy, N. M., where 12 cases were confirmed.

Dr. B. B. Vail Jr. told the Animal Health Commission that they need more reports from ranchers.

Dr. S. B. Walker of the Commission and Dr. S. C. Gartman of the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Animal Health Division asked livestock producers also to report promptly any signs of sore mouth condition or blister-like sores on udders or above hooves of animals to combat a recent outbreak of vesicular stomatitis.

In similar farm reports, State Agriculture Comm. John C. White

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Philosopher Can't Understand Why Some In U.S. Want Faster Mail Service

Dear editor:

According to three different articles I've read in three different newspapers I've found out here in the past week, a lot of people, especially in cities, are complaining about the mail service. They say it's too slow.

According to one article, a man living on one side of New York sent a letter to a friend on the other side. At the same time, another man in Australia sent the same friend a letter, and he got them both on the same day. One crossed the ocean while the other was crossing New York. Some Congressman up there even got on a horse and proved pony express was faster than the regular system.

Another article claimed mail service in London is three times as fast as it is in big cities over here, said you could mail a letter there in the morning and it'd be delivered before noon.

Of course there are reasons for such things. Take London, London is a very old city and the postmaster probably knows everybody in town. No trick to that. Postmaster Caperton probably could beat London, if it ever became necessary, although I figure if anybody in Cameron needs to communicate with somebody else in town that fast, he could phone or walk across the street.

Personally, I have never been too concerned over how fast I got my mail. Half the letters could never have reached me at all and I'd probably been better off. Anybody who can't wait till the 1st to get a bill can always go in ahead of time and pay it in the middle of the month.

Furthermore, I don't know of a thing I need to tell anybody now that day after tomorrow wouldn't do just as well, even if he never heard it he'd probably be just as well off, and I don't know anybody who has any information for me that I'd be any less confused by getting two days late. I've never understood all this craze for speed.

Say, my copy of The Cameron Herald got here a day late last week. Wish you'd speak to the Postmaster about it.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

DIPLOMATIC POUCH

Washington D.C. The following letters were recently answered by the Department of State.

I am a delegate from high school to the Model Congress, to be held at American International College. My delegation is proposing a bill to increase the budgets of ambassadors and ministers to permit men of moderate means to hold these positions.

We would like to have a copy of the itemized budget of an ambassador to a major nation, like Great Britain or the USSR. We would also like to know what Congressional Committee has jurisdiction in this matter.

R. G. S.
Marblehead, Mass.
Dear Mr. S.:
The American Ambassador to the United Kingdom has a basic salary of $30,000 per year. In fiscal year 1965, approximately $21,000 was allotted for country-wide requirements for representation for all Embassy and Consulate officers.

Of this amount, approximately $9,750 was apportioned to the Ambassador. The Ambassador was reimbursed approximately $40,000 in FY-1965 for expenses in connection with operating the official Embassy Residence.

The American Ambassador to the USSR also has a basic salary of $30,000 per year. In FY-1965, approximately $13,000 was allotted for the representation requirements of Embassy officers. Of this, about $8,100 was apportioned to the Ambassador. The Ambassador was reimbursed $27,000 in FY-1965 for expenses in connection with operating the official Embassy Residence.

The House and Senate Subcommittees on Appropriations for the Department of State have jurisdiction over the annual budget of this Department.

Does the United States of America consider Yugoslavia to be a nation?

J. H.
Coral Gables, Fla.
Dear Miss H.:

Article I of the Yugoslav Constitution states that "The Socialist Federal Republic of Yugoslavia is a federal state of voluntary, united and equal peoples..." Article II states that "The Socialist Federal Republic of Yugoslavia comprises the Socialist Republics of Bosnia and Herzegovina, Croatia, Macedonia, Montenegro, Serbia and Slovenia. The territory of the Socialist Federal Republic of Yugoslavia is unified, consisting of the territories of the Socialist Republics."

The United States, of course, recognizes the Socialist Federal Republic of Yugoslavia as a state and conducts normal diplomatic relations with its government.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor in the building of character and good citizenship. It is a strong force of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. These are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

It happened on the very first point as everyone knew it would. The champ was testing the challenger's backhand.

Champs are like that. Right from the start they probe for some flaw in the opponent's game. And when they find it — look out!

Life is just as probing and relentless. Quickly it uncovers our weaknesses . . . then assaults them again and again.

Is that why men go to church? It's one of the reasons!

Victories never come with glorying in our uncertain strength. They come with doing something about our proven weaknesses.

Long ago it became trite to observe that the Church is meant for sinners rather than saints. But it is sound Christian living to recognize honestly our shortcomings . . . and constantly, persistently to seek God's help in overcoming them.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

HOW MUCH RELIGIOUS LIBERTY?

"The crowning glory of American freedom," wrote one exultant judge, "is absolute religious liberty."

Yet, is "absolute" the right word? Are there really no limits at all to our religious liberties?

The great, historic test of this question arose a century ago when a Mormon was arrested for polygamy. In his defense he relied on the constitutional guarantee of religious freedom.

But the Supreme Court drew a momentous line dividing that freedom into two parts: freedom of belief and freedom of practice. The court said freedom of belief has no limits, but freedom of practice must necessarily have limits if society is going to function successfully.

Otherwise, said the Court, any anti-social act - including even human sacrifice - would be lawful if it bore a religious label. "Every citizen (would) become a law unto himself. Government could exist only in name."

Thus, in assorted test cases, courts have held it illegal - even for religious reasons - to use child labor, to violate a liquor law, to curse a policeman, or to handle snakes dangerously in church. However sincere the defendant's religious belief, his religious practice went beyond what society could fairly permit.

Nevertheless, in each one of these cases, the court acted only because the need for setting limits seemed very clear indeed. By and large, the law has bent over backward to avoid putting limits on religious practice.

For instance, courts have upheld the right of religious partisans to ring doorbells (even if that might annoy some folk) and to hand out leaflets (even if that might cause litter).

Furthermore, under the sturdy constitutional shelter, unusual form of worship continue to sprout and flourish.

So our religious freedom, if not quite "absolute," is reassuringly close to it - just as the Founding Fathers intended.

"They fashioned a charter of government," the Supreme Court has said, "which envisaged the widest possible toleration of conflicting views. Man's relation to his God was made no concern of the state."

Rousing good meals without meat put a feather in any cook's cap. With cheese, mainstay of such meatless menus, it's an accomplishment within the reach of all. In this Scalloped Cheese 'N' Tuna developed by the Borden Kitchen, American cheese teams with eggs, tuna, and, for the smooth creamy sauce, nonfat dry milk. Complement with a vegetable, green salad, and flaky butter crescents.

- Scalloped Cheese 'N' Tuna (Makes 5 to 6 servings)
- | | |
|--|---|
| 1/2 cup butter or new Danish margarine | 2/3 cup Starlac nonfat dry milk |
| 1/2 cup chopped green pepper | 1 3/4 cups water |
| 1 tablespoon dehydrated minced onion | 1 1/4 cups of 2 pound loaf's Borden's processed American cheese, shredded |
| 1/2 teaspoon salt | 3 (7-oz.) cans flaked tuna |
| 1/4 cup flour | 6 hard-cooked eggs, sliced |

In a medium-size saucepan, over medium heat, melt butter. Add green pepper, onion and salt; saute until tender. Blend in flour. Sprinkle nonfat dry milk over water; stir to blend. Gradually stir milk into vegetable-flour mixture. Stir constantly and cook until thickened and smooth. Add cheese; stir until melted. In a 12 x 7-1/2 x 2-inch baking dish, make a layer of tuna fish, hard-cooked egg slices and cheese sauce; repeat to make second layer. Bake in a moderate (350°F.) oven for 20 minutes, or until light golden brown. If desired, one or two egg yolks may be reserved and used to sieve over top of finished casserole as a garnish.

Enlistment Changes For USAF Service

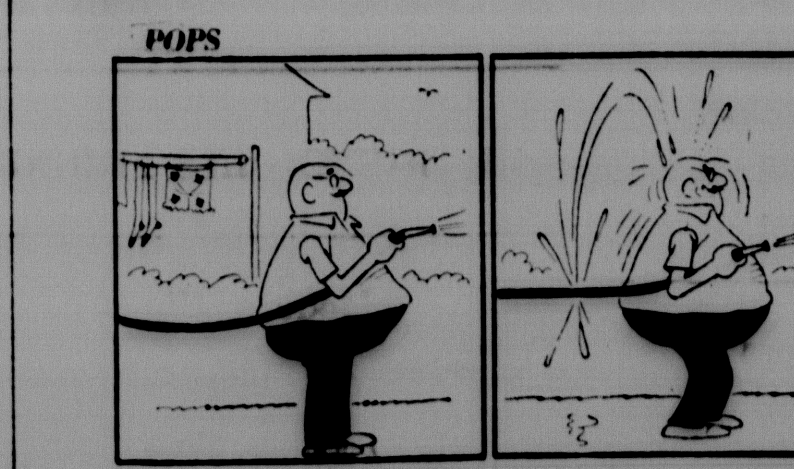

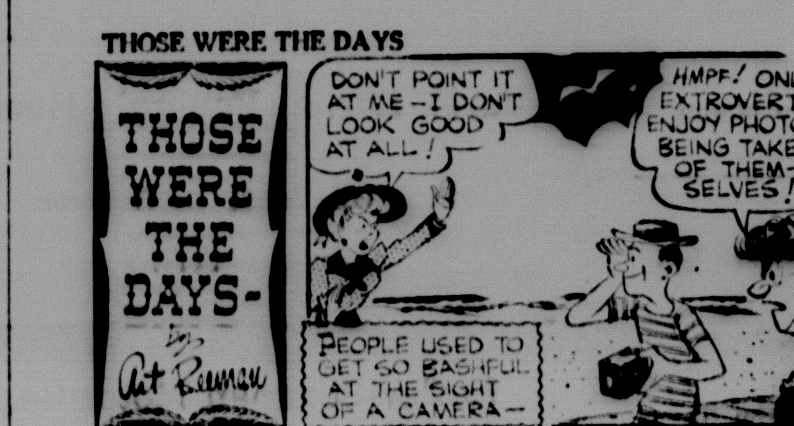

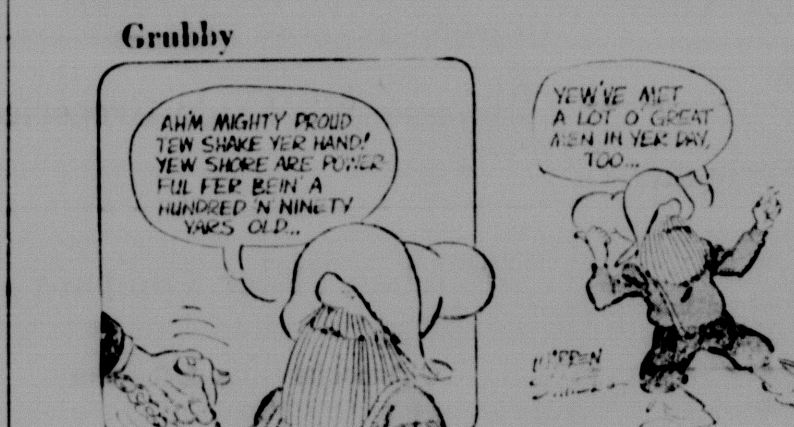

Air Force Officials announced changes in the requirements for former servicemen who wish to enter the Air Force. This new release will allow thousands who have been ineligible in the past the opportunity to re-enlist.

The new ruling by Air Force Officials will allow men to enlist regardless of the break in service, provided they meet other liberalized qualifications. Former servicemen from the Army, Navy, Marines and Coast Guard, as well as the Air Force, now can be separated from the service for a period not to exceed 24 months, and still retain their rank.

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Modesette and Danielle of Austin were guests of his father Lewis Modesette.

SELF ANALYSIS QUIZ

Do You Get The Most From Your Automobile Fuel

by Serbling Maas, Famous Test Car Driver

In the future cars will likely run on atomic energy or be fed little pills filled with solar radiation which will make the wheels go around. Until then however, we still have to go to the gasoline stations and say, "fill 'er up." And that costs money! Good driving habits can, however, save your gasoline dollar. Check your knowledge of economical driving habits. Are the following nine statements TRUE or FALSE?

- | | | |
|--|-----|-----|
| 1. A fast take-off from a standing position fills the carburetor and lessens the amount of gasoline used in the long-run. | () | () |
| 2. When your car is cold, pump the accelerator. | () | () |
| 3. Race your car up hills and save gas by gliding down inclines. | () | () |
| 4. Extended periods in low gear uses less gasoline than in regular gear. | () | () |
| 5. Pumping the accelerator, while waiting for signals to change or when driving on the road, decreases the amount of gasoline consumption. | () | () |
| 6. Proper spark timing contributes to the smoothness of an engine but has no relationship to gasoline consumption. | () | () |
| 7. All cars operate more economically on the best, highest octane gasoline. | () | () |
| 8. Soft tires contributes to poor gasoline mileage. | () | () |
| 9. Heavy oils compensate for gasoline and lessen the amount used. | () | () |
| 10. How can you determine the mileage you get for a gallon of gasoline? | () | () |

ANSWERS:

The correct answers to Statements 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5 are all FALSE: Professional drivers find that evenness of driving is the major factor for good gasoline mileage. Smooth starts, steady buildups of speed, foresight in traffic, on hills and around curves double your miles-per-gallon. Every time you use your brakes, you use nearly a cup of gasoline. Allowing your car to idle needlessly costs about a half-gallon of gasoline per accumulated hour.

6. FALSE: One faulty sparkplug in a six-cylinder engine wastes 16% fuel. A stuck carburetor wastes 20%; a dirty air filter, 10%. Poor compression, thermostat and manifold heat are equally greedy. It pays to have your motor working well.

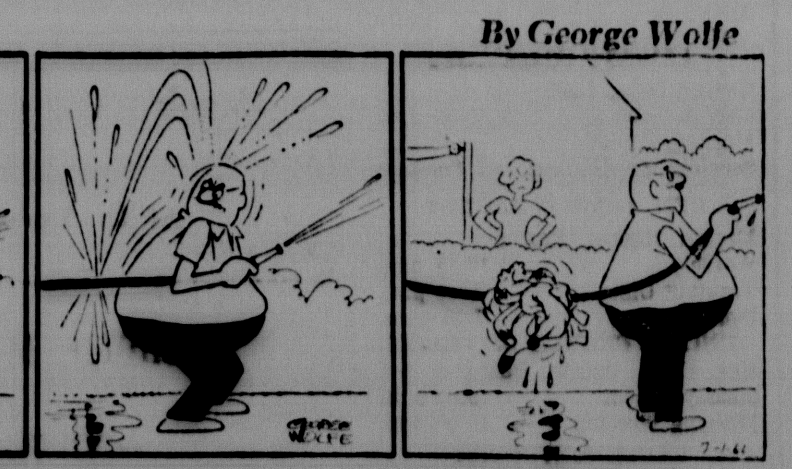

7. FALSE: Today's regular gas is rated as high in performance as yesterday's high octane. Some cars, especially the compacts, do not function well on such a rich diet.

8. TRUE: Tires that are underinflated four pounds cause your car to use a half gallon of gasoline out of every 20. Add four extra pounds of air when preparing for a long trip or carrying a heavy load. (Do not, however, carry too much pressure in tires when driving at high speeds in very hot climates because of blow-out hazards.) Dragging brakes, tight wheel bearings and poor front-wheel alignment also make your car drink more gasoline.

9. FALSE: Heavy motor oil wastes gasoline. Ask your service man for the lightest your car can use.

10. To find our your gasoline mileage:

- Fill your tank with gasoline to the place where the cap twists on. Note your mileage. Do NOT record the gasoline amount.
- Buy gasoline five more times, noting the amount to the 10th of a gallon.
- On the fifth purchase, fill the tank again to the place where the cap twists on. Note your mileage.
- Subtract your first mileage figure from your last, thus finding out how many miles you have driven.
- Divide the mileage by the total number of gallons and tenths of gallons you have purchased the last five times. The answer is your miles per-gallon.

OUTDOOR TIPS

By Vern Sanford

MAKING A GUN RACK

A home-made gun rack can be a thing of beauty. Furthermore, the cost can be held to a minimum, if you will scout around the shops. Just find an old-fashioned used glass-door bookcase desk, take out the shelves and replace with clamps for gun barrels. Leave the drawers as they are to hold accessories.

Desk slab serves as a good work-bench.

Camouflaging a Hunting Jacket
You don't have to buy expensive camouflage clothing to go hunting.

You can create the same effect by taking an old hunting coat and canvas cap and scrawling all sorts of zigzag heavy lines and spots in greens, browns and blacks on the cloth. Use grease pencils or the kids' crayolas.

After drawing the designs, run a hot iron over the backside of the cloth. This will set the colors and make a good waterproof jacket and cap, perfectly camouflaged.

DURABLE TENT PEGS

You can buy 1/2 inch steel concrete reinforcing rods cheaply at most junk yards. Get a few and cut them into 12" lengths for use as tent pegs.

These pegs can be driven into hard, even frozen, ground work out splitting. And they won't slip.

EMERGENCY CAMP LAMP

For emergencies always carry in your car two alligator clips, a standard lamp socket, a 6-12 volt - 15-25 watt bulb, and a length of flexible, extension cord, lamp wire.

Then if you need a light, you can rig up one quickly from your car battery by attaching clips to one end of extension cord, bulb to the other.

Clamp clips to battery terminals and the bulb will light.

MORE ACTION FROM LURES

Carry along in your tackle box a supply of buttons of assorted shapes, colors and sizes. Then, when you want a more zippy jig just thread a button in front of the lure.

You can vary the action by using different button sizes.

Improved Texas Agriculture Objective - Some 175 leaders in Texas agriculture and Texas A&M University College of Agriculture staff members began a study of the state's farming and ranching industry when they met at A&M on June 27-28. H. C. Heldentels, president of the A&M Board of Directors, said the study could be the most important planning effort ever made by the University. The project was requested by the A&M Board because of the importance of agriculture to the state's economy, its increasing complexity, and the statewide responsibility of A&M to the industry.

Beware of the Tiny Chigger

Scratching is not a planned activity of outdoor-minded Texans, but unless they take needed precautions, it can become a major consideration. The act of scratching is simply an on-the-spot reaction to the bites of redbugs or chiggers. The tiny pests can be controlled on lawns or campsites and repellents are effective for keeping them off persons who go into chigger infested areas. Local county agents can supply details on control measures.

LESS THAN HALF 4-H MEMBERS LIVE ON FARMS

Slightly less than 45 percent of all 4-H members reside on farms. Of the remainder, 33 percent live in rural areas and the balance in towns and cities with over 2,500 population.

Rites Held For Former Teacher,
Dr. R. Barmore

Dr. Ruth Barmore McCharen, 66, died in a local hospital Thursday, June 30, following a lengthy illness.

She was born at Maysfield, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Barmore and attended schools in Ben Arnold and Maysfield. After graduation from Baylor University she taught school in San Gabriel, Hale Center and White Deer. She married Judge W. E. McCharen of Raymondville in 1939. Following her husband's death she studied Chiropractic at Logan Basic College of Chiropractic in St. Louis and in 1947 opened her practice in Mercedes. She moved to Weslaco in 1965 where she practiced Chiropractic until illness forced her retirement in 1962. She returned to Cameron in 1964.

Dr. McCharen had been active in the Business and Professional Women's Club and Zonta Club while living in the Valley.

Funeral services were held at 2 p.m. Saturday in the chapel of Green Funeral Home with Rev. Eugene Strickland officiating. Burial was in Little River Cemetery.

Surviving are two sisters, Mrs. Ada Bell Smith of Cameron and Mrs. Margie Ireland of Houston; two brothers, Roy Barmore of Cameron and Eugene Barmore of Sugarland.

Cameron Trio Given
Probated Sentences
In District Court

George McKay, William Beene and Mrs. Mary White Zipps, all of Cameron, were given probated sentences June 24 in District Court by Judge W. C. Wallace.

George McKay pleaded guilty to the January 16 burglary of the Michalka Store in Cameron. He received a three-year probated sentence.

William Beene of Cameron pleaded guilty to burglary of the George Trigas Store at Sharp on February 20 and received a two-year probated sentence.

Mrs. Mary White Zipps of Cameron pleaded guilty to an April 16, 1966 charge of driving while intoxicated, a felony offense. She received a three year probated sentence.
